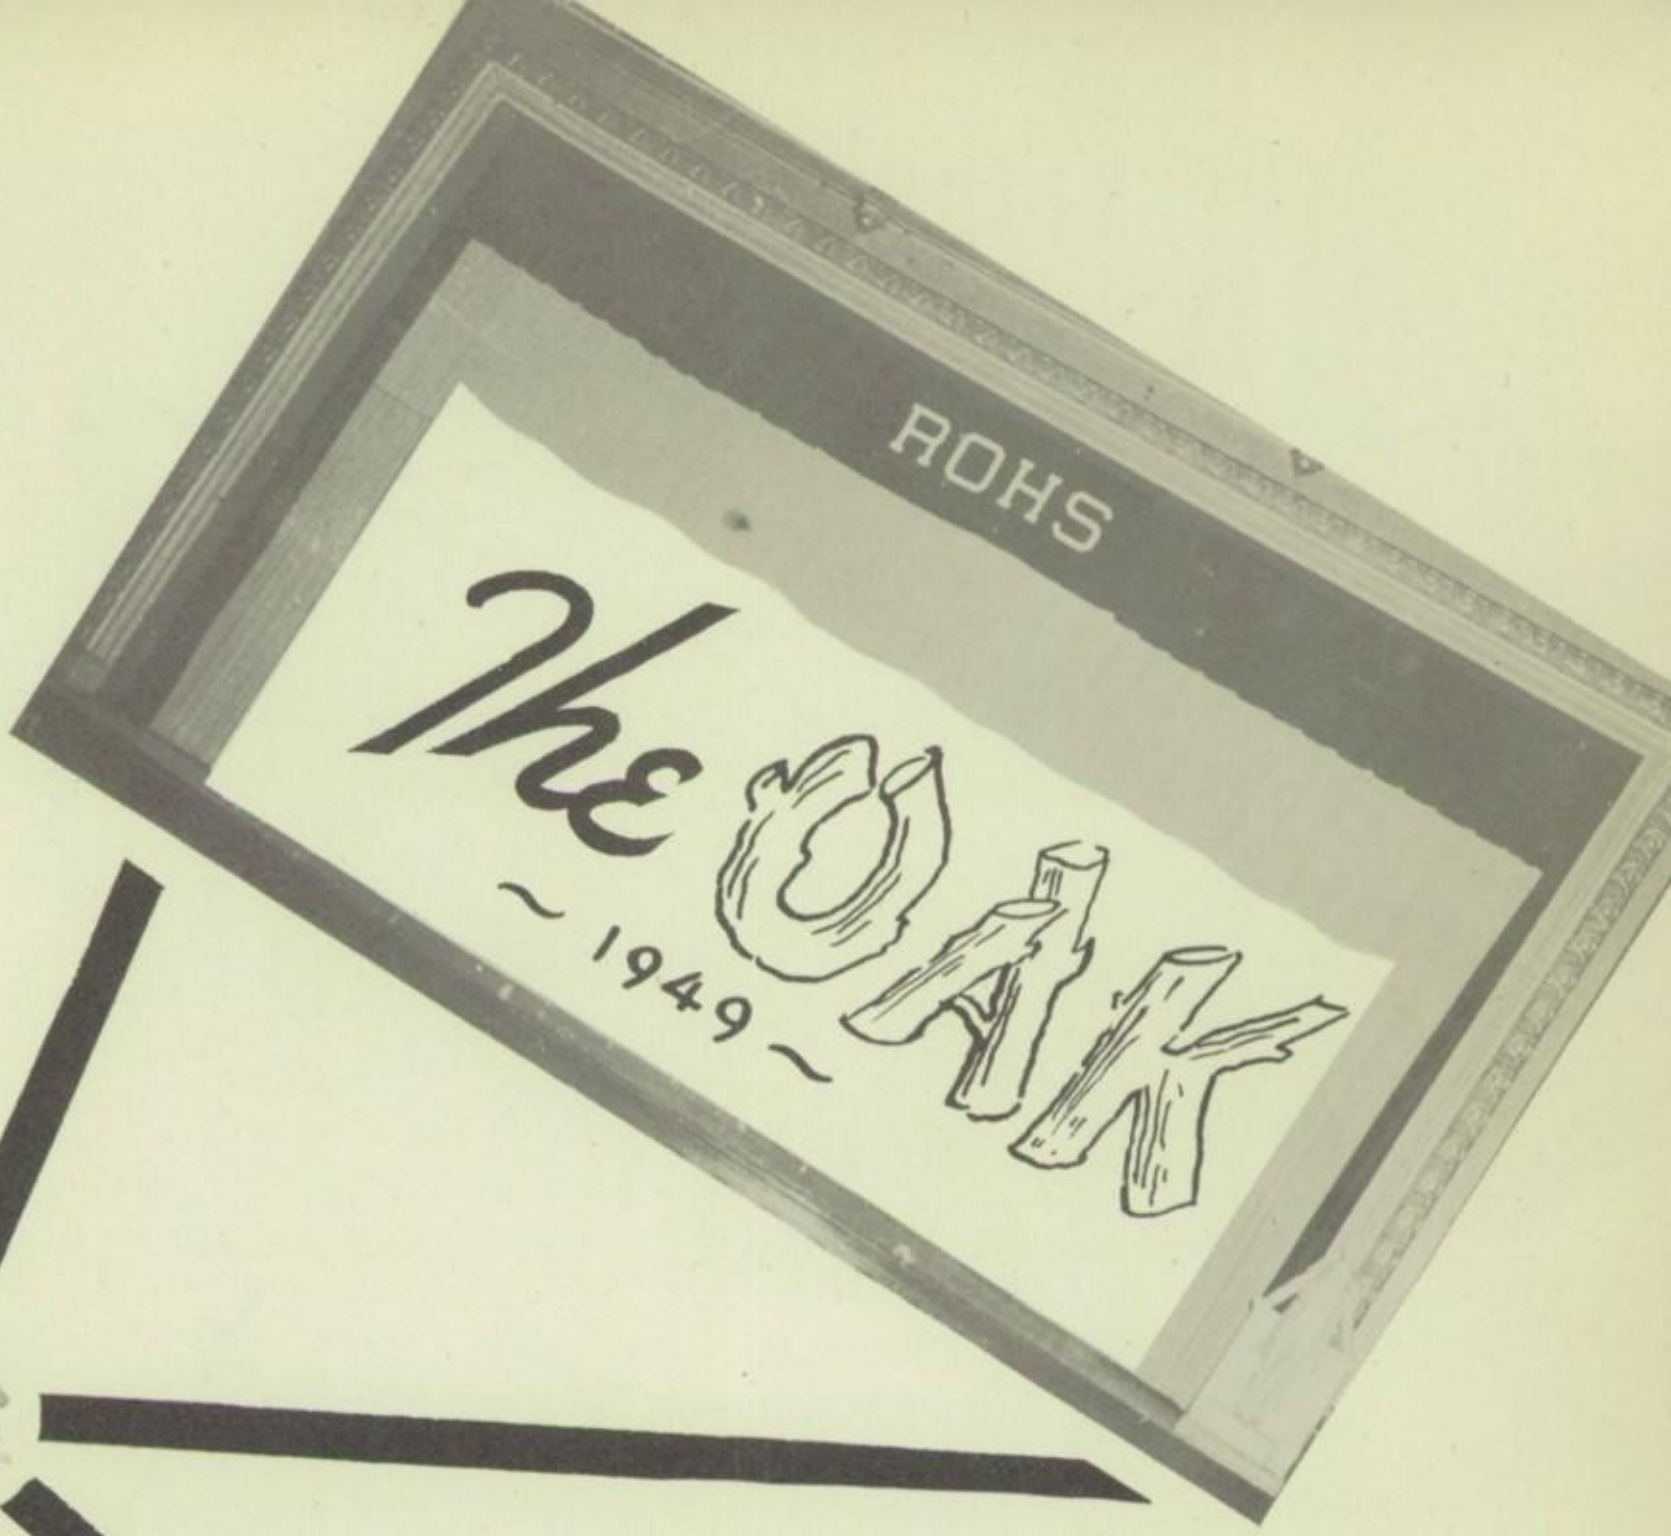
DEDICATION

We, the class of January '49, dedicate our Oak and our future to our town, in appreciation of the fine educational facilities offered us. Royal Oak, built by the courage and efforts of citizens of yesterday, and ever advancing with the people of today, is destined to progress with those of tomorrow.

In the future when the memories of our high school days grow dimmer, we will still be proud to have graduated from a school which has so much backing and interest from the citizens of the community.

We shall never forget the many and varied opportunities provided by OUR town, Royal Oak, Michigan.



This is the OAK. It was produced by the January 1949 class of Royal Oak High School. In it you will see Mr. Haven Doane, Miss Jean Smith, Mr. James Huebner, Miss Olga Torsky, class officers; Miss Jean Alston, valedictorian; Mr. Jack Fowlie, salutatorian; and many others too numerous to mention. Our school is located in our town, Royal Oak, Michigan, latitude 42.30 North, longitude 83.10 West. Our years in this high school have been filled with many activities. Perhaps now you would be interested in looking in on our class and the activities about the school----

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

The turn of every day finds the seniors occupied with the numerous extra curricular events that comprise the school year. Many activities included are senior meetings, senior parties, planning for annual dances, preparing for graduation and anticipating that long-awaited day in January.

With "Hamlet," magnetism, and electricity and aptitude tests, the esteemed seniors are kept very busy. In this act we will look in on the seniors in study hall, in classes, and at play. There are pictures taken way back in the 30's when these same seniors were just small fry.

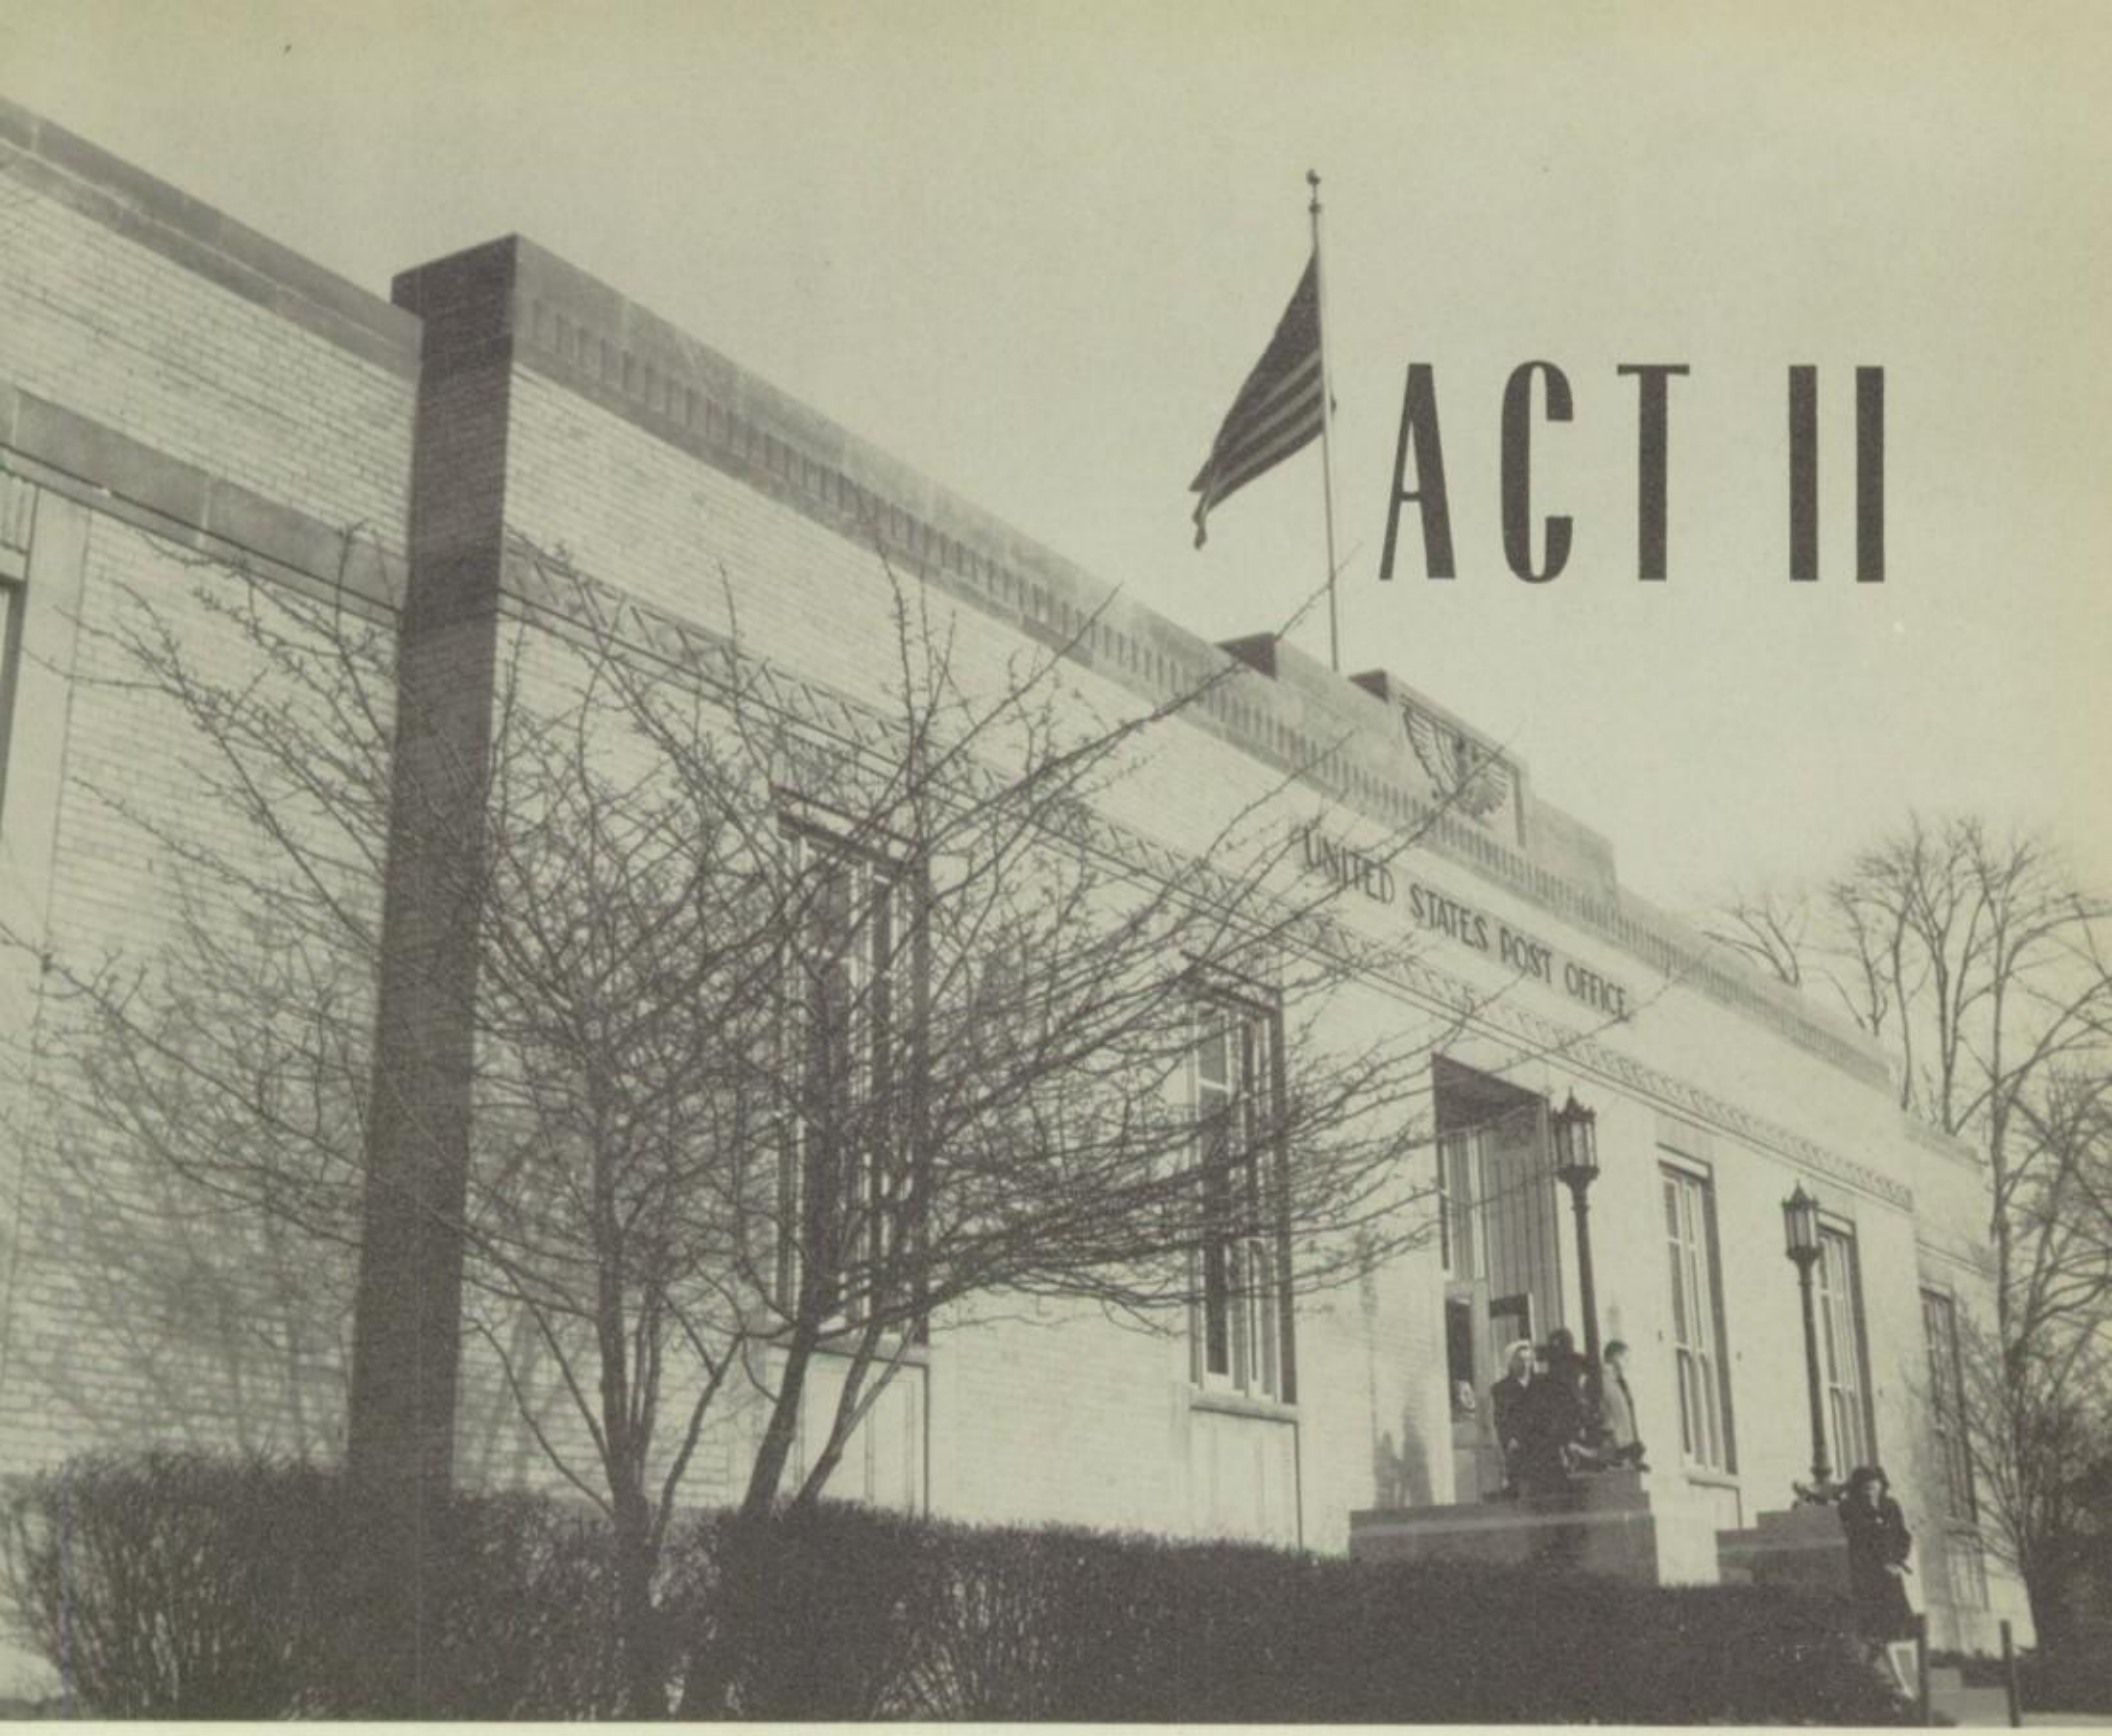
JACK O'BOYLE--I will my open back locker to some undeserving freshie who doesn't want his books anyway.



ACT II

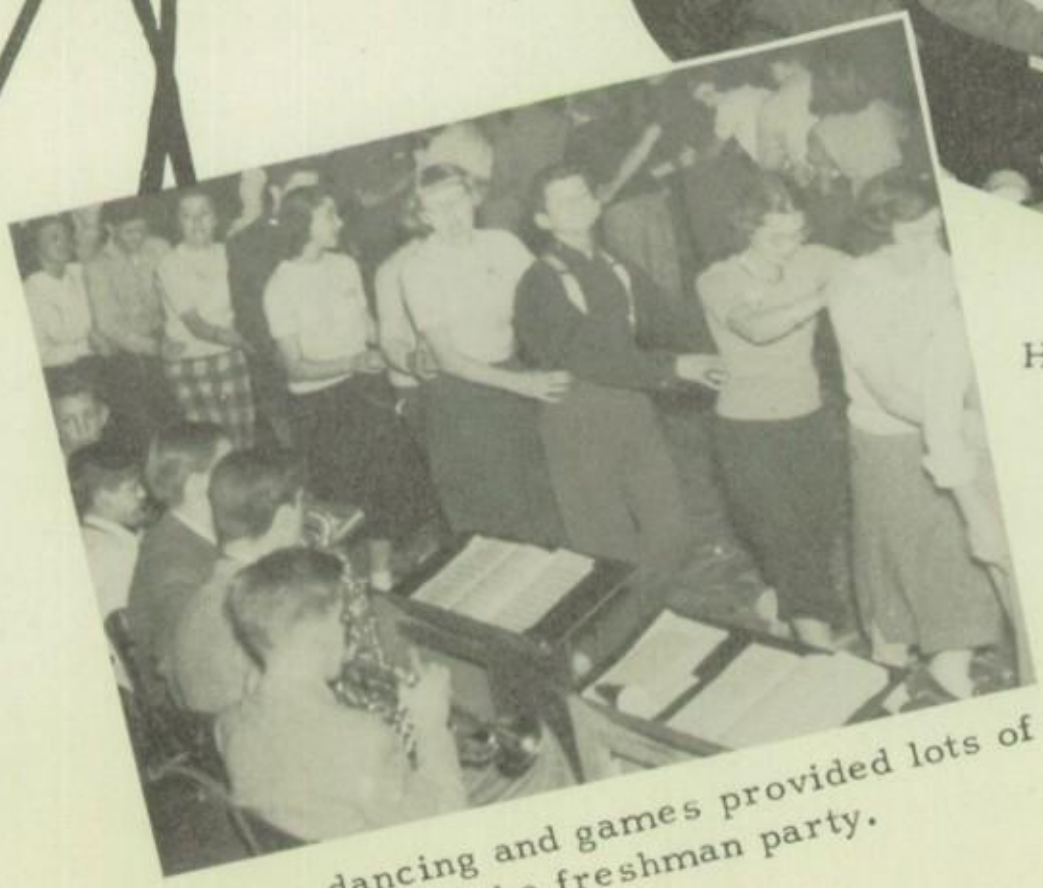
CLASS ACTIVITIES

After a brief intermission, let's return to the business at hand and look in on the various classes.

We'll see the Freshmen in good grooming classes, the Sophs on hall patrol, the peppy Juniors at the lunch table, and the new Junior Officers. The Senior B's are shown as their usual selves at work and at play. Shall we open the curtain for the second act----

The kids get tips on grooming.

Here's a large group of freshmen all together for a good time.



Square dancing and games provided lots of fun at the freshman party.

We're the kids who love "cokes," potato chips, parties, and who are thrilled at the thought of being SOPHS next semester. We are the kids who baby-sit to get extra money for expenses. We are most comfortable in sweatshirts and jeans.

We all love sports and stick up for our school and class teams at all games.

You say you haven't seen us around? LOOK SHARP! WE'RE HERE!

SOPHOMORES
10 B'S

Bev Busch, Donna Hilde, Mary Kay Wheeler, Carol Simmons, Carol Alyea, Joan Keuger, Phyllis Jakeway, Marilyn March, Marcia Enyeart, Barbara Lewis, Shirley Crosby, Clair Rathburg, Phyllis Bongam, Donna Prance, Margaret Rapson, Frances Mielke and Juanita Clarke.

CAY NEWHOUSE--I expect to be----married, making huge sums of money, and well-known

GEORGE NOLAN--I will be "Who Knows."

ACT III

CLUBS AND SPORTS

Now let's turn our attention on the extra curricular activities around school.

The boys who won for dear old ROHS the coveted Border City League crown in football for the first time in eleven years years are shown in this act. Also swimming, cross country, basketball, tennis and girls sports are included. In addition, the cheerleaders, the band and the majorettes have been pictured.

You will see a number of clubs in our school, but they are too numerous to mention here.

Another big event of the year was the Senior Play, "Our Town," by Thornton Wilder, produced by the Senior Class and the Atwas Club.

Then the spotlight changed to the annual Alumni Thanksgiving Dance, entitled "Memories," which was presented by the Senior Class.

Shall we turn our attention to them now?----

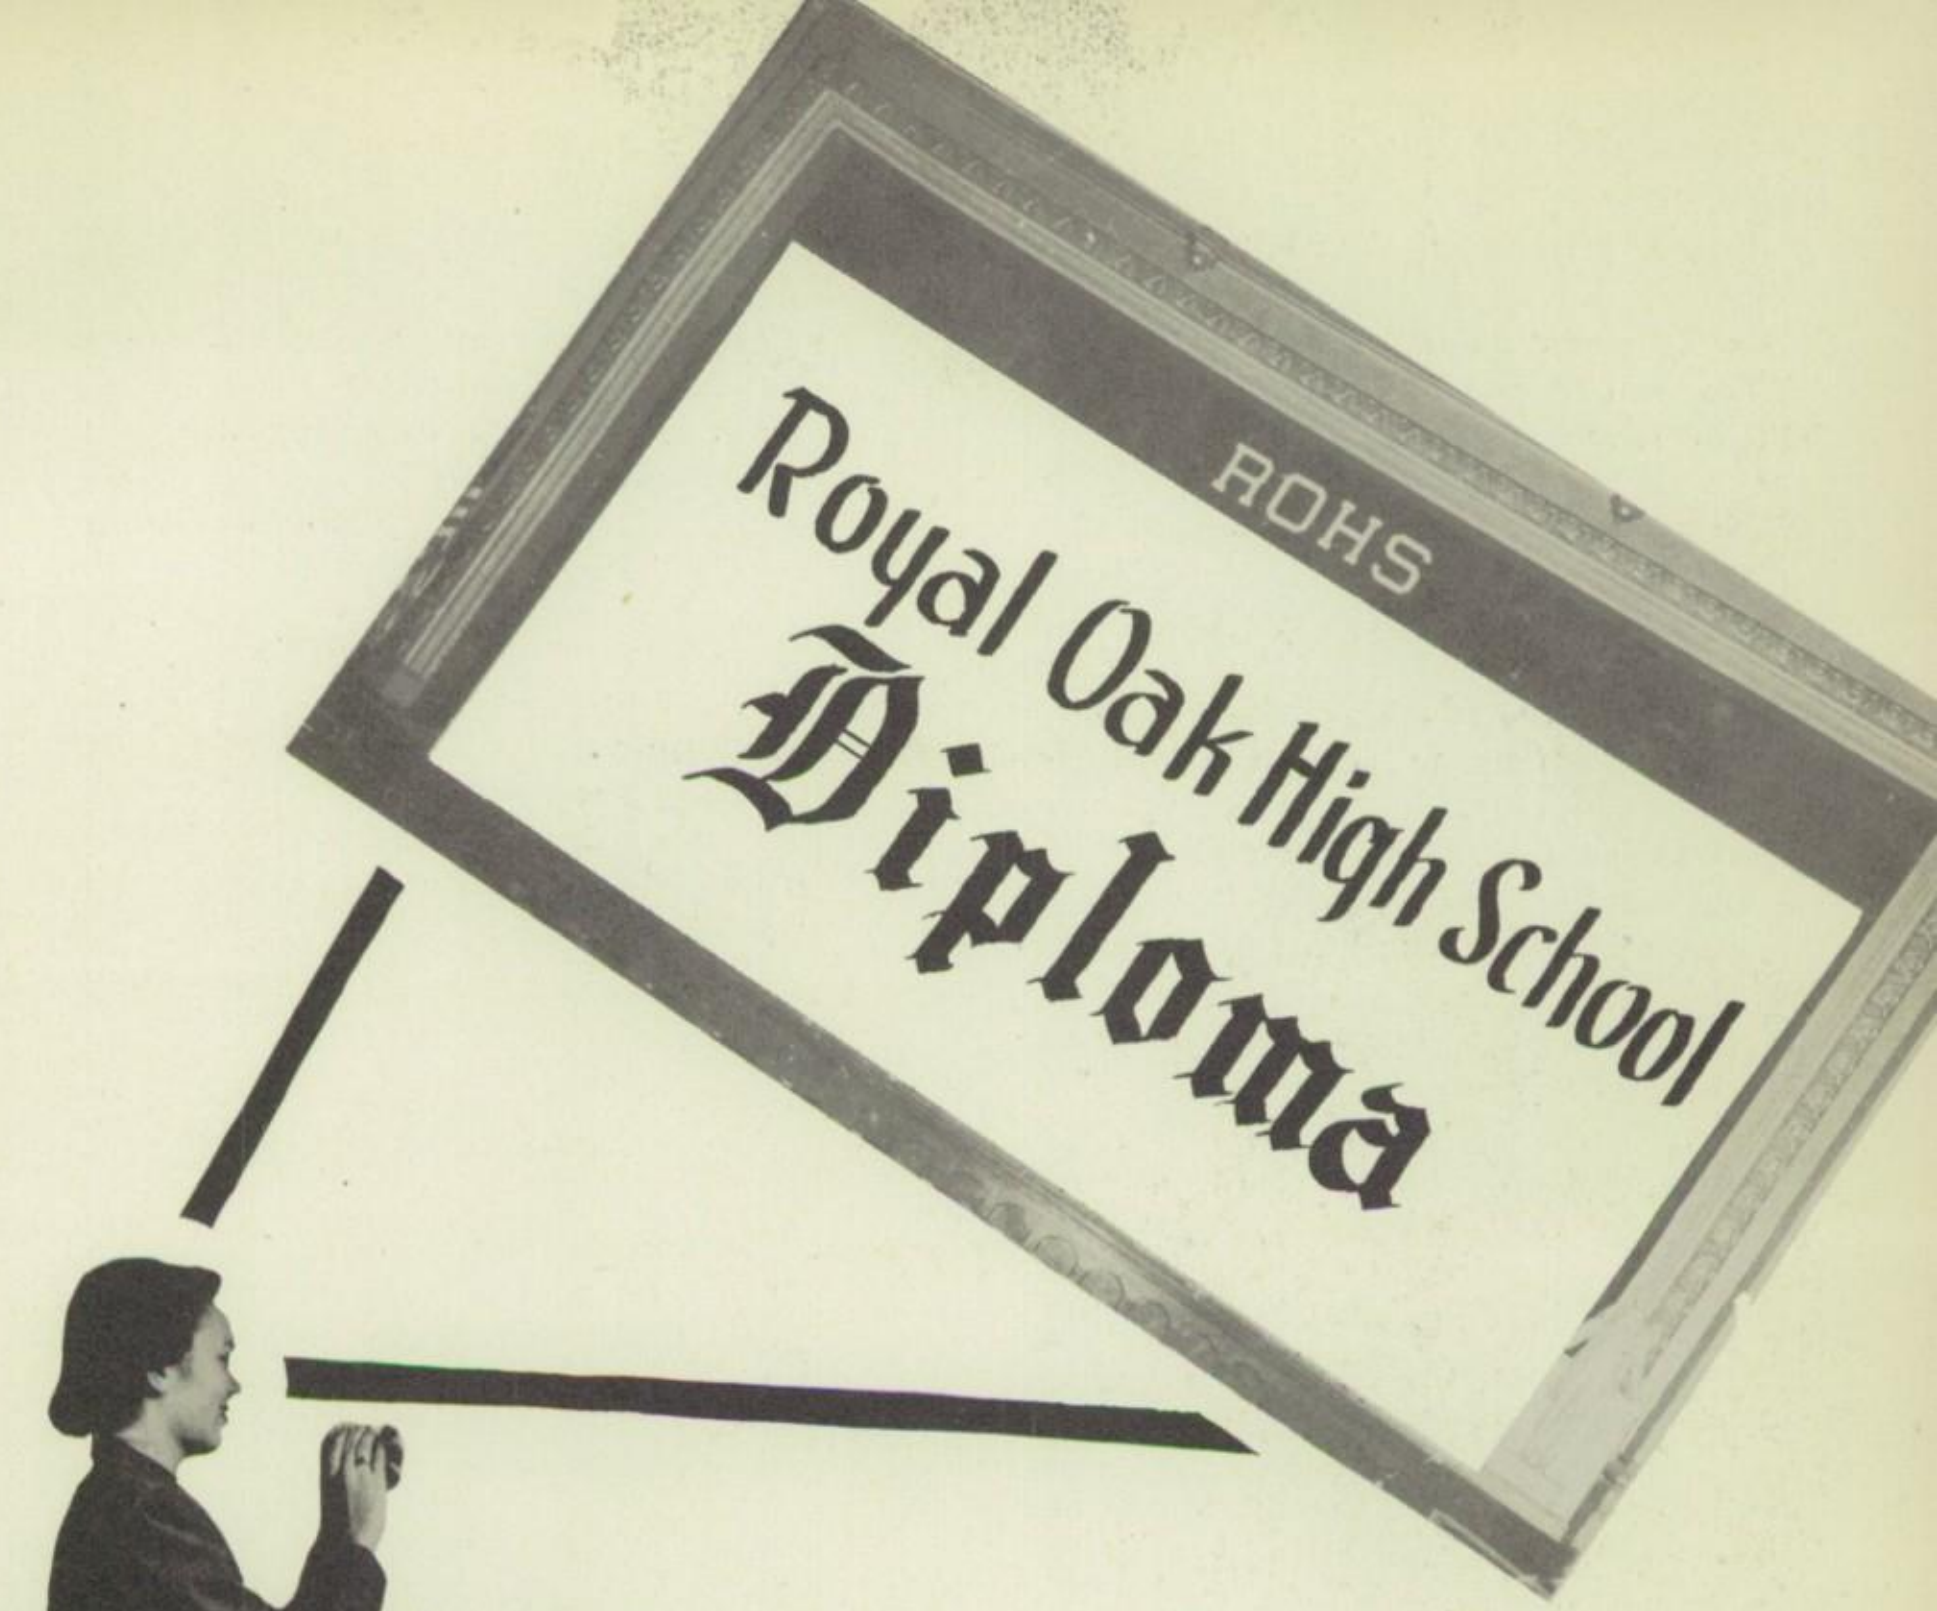
MEMORIES

GIVING



The lights dim as graduation rings down the curtain on the January '49 class. Locked between the covers of this annual are the memories of high school days. We are leaving those days, but we will keep their memories with us, for they are a part of us.

Now we step into the world--perhaps to continue our study or to join the legion of business employees. Whatever our choice, let us keep in mind that the eyes of the world are upon us. As alumni of Royal Oak High School, we will do our best to uphold the traditions of our town.

POETRY

HE WHIZZED TO HIS DEATH

"John Thomas, John Thomas,
Oh, where can he be?"
"Oh, he is dead, my Lady o'Lee."

"What happened, what happened,
Oh, where can he be?"
"He died on his whizzer, my Lady o'Lee."

"Oh why, oh why?--oh, I cannot see!"
"He had no lights, so neither could he."

"What happened, what happened,
Oh, kind sir, tell me."
"He was struck by a car and killed instantly."

"He had been out, been out to see
His girl friend, my Lady o'Lee."

"He was coming, coming back, you see,
When he was struck and killed instantly."

"He was hit, he is dead,
He was killed instantly.
I am sorry, so sorry, my Lady o'Lee."

"His lights were gone, he could not see,
He was struck and killed instantly.
I am sorry, my Lady o'Lee."

"I must confess, my Lady o'Lee,
Something that I hoped could not be:

"I killed him, I hit him, and I am sorree---
Oh, please forgive me, my Lady o'Lee."

Robert Gilham

DEATH

Joyously, I watch them close
The curtains, which are my life,
Bowing off this stage
My soul, to some greater play.

Jean Alston

SNOW TEARS

The snow
Is a soft tear
That Mother Nature sheds
On a hard, cruel world and one
Just dead.

Ronald Shires

TREASURE

What is prized much more than gold
Yet cannot be ours?
What is the truth to be found
In a blade of grass?

Robert Gilham

MEMORIES

Moonlight
Casting shadows
On water deep and dark
Reminds me of my long life . . . . and you
Now gone.

Norma Hendershot

THE OPEN ROAD

"The day is long, lad;
This free land is ours to roam.
Let's take the path to somewhere
With our trust in Him above."

Ted Weber

VOCAL

Laughing, laughing, laughing
All the world's so gay,
Singing, singing, singing
Croons throughout the day.
Shouting, shouting, shouting,
Sports demand the cheer,
Cheering, cheering, cheering
The victor of the year.
Screaming, screaming, screaming
The thrill of sport's suspense;
The shout, the scream, the rasping cry,
The hanging balance of events.
Shouting, shouting, shouting,
To friend, to team, to all that hear;
Screeching, screeching, screeching,
Laughing, laughing, laughing,
Bleeding, bleeding, draining
All their lives away;
All humans must their precious strength
Exhaust in noise, in noise,
Throughout the noisy play.

Jack Jacobs

MY PHILOSOPHY

There be
Two things on earth;
The loved life . . . the feared death . . .
But when all's done, our final goal
Is death.

George Nolan

FLOOD

The flood
Comes ev'ry year
To swallow up our work;
To make us leave and go in search
Of hills.

MY PEACE

The night
Is dark and long,
As winter shortens days.
This sweet nocturne means peace to me
In sleep.

Gloria Personke

INFINITY

A glimpse
Into the dark
Of space leaves ample thought
To one's short span, matched with God's Great plan.
